Dear Sir:

Greetings from PW Philippines Corporation!

PW Philippines Corporation is a tutorial school for the Japanese language in caregiving, accommodation, food service, and the aviation industry. Our mission is to provide free Japanese language tutorials to young Filipinos who are interested in broadening their opportunities through learning the Japanese language.

As part of the company's mission to give back to society, we continuously partner with reputable companies and institutions to explore potential collaborations by introducing our program and services. Additionally, we would like to offer scholarships to your graduating grade 12 students who may be interested. This opportunity could also be considered as one of their options upon completing senior high school.

Currently, we have a 1,453 number of students studying in our school, and as of January 2025 we have 1,503 successful graduates who are now fulfilling their respective goals in Japan. Therefore, we kindly request permission to participate once again in any public or private Senior High School activities where we can share information about our scholarship program.

We look forward to your approval to participate in the aforementioned school activities and are eager to continue supporting our young Filipino students in meaningful ways.
