Division of Digos City

Dear Dr. Estacio,

Greetings!

Southwill Learning Center respectfully seek your approval and endorsement for our upcoming school play production, Kasikas sa Hawanan, which is an adaptation of George Orwell's Animal Farm. We would like to invite public schools under your supervision to attend this educational and artistic event.

At its core, Animal Farm serves as a cautionary tale, warning about how revolutions—though born from noble intentions—can devolve into systems that perpetuate oppression. The iconic slogan, "All animals are equal, but some animals are more equal than others," satirizes the hypocrisy often found in governments that, while claiming to promote equality, engage in even more oppressive practices than those they initially sought to overthrow. Orwell's work remains a timeless critique of human nature and the dangers of unchecked power. We believe this production will provide valuable discussion material for both social science and literature classes.

The details of the event are as follows:

What: School Play Production – Kasikas sa Hawanan

This production is a key component of our work immersion program, offering students hands-on experience in theater production, performance, and event management. Through this initiative, we aim to develop not only our artistic abilities but also our teamwork, leadership, and communication skills.

In this regard, we kindly request permission to promote the play across various schools by distributing posters, making announcements, and utilizing digital platforms. Rest assured, all promotional materials will adhere to the guidelines set forth by the Department of Education (DepEd) and will uphold educational and ethical standards.

We sincerely hope for your favorable consideration of our request. Should you need further information or clarification, we are more than willing to provide additional details.

Thank you for your time and support in encouraging the arts and practical learning experiences in education.

Sincerely,
